Archipelago appeared a short time ago in the columns of the China Mail, which is calculated to lead to somewhat erroneous ideas upon this subject, and we, therefore, think it well to place before our readers what we learn from reliable authority is the true state of the case. Captain RACCHIA's arrival at Singapore was noticed in this paper some time ago, and our contemporary is correct in its statement us far as regards what was the intention of the Italian Government originally. They intended to take possession of Pulo Gaya, as we stated in a previous article on this subject, but the English Government, having the right by Treaty to refuse to allow the Sultan of Borneo to make any concessions of land in full sovereignty without their consent, he declined to accede to this, and in unfavourably when compared with those of consequence Captain RAUCHIA went to Eugland with the object of inducing the British prosperity of the Corporation. The island is actually the property of Great Britain. Some two hundred years since, the East, India Company founded a Colony there, which was uttterly destroyed by a squadron of Scoloo pirates, and since that time the land has been uninhabited. As already pointed out in previously wristing on the subject, British trading interests, especially at Labuan, will undoubtedly be much jeopardized, should the schemes which the Italian and Spanish Governments are maturing be carried out, as if Spain can succeed in annexing a portion, if not the whole, of the Sooloo Archipelago, the trade which now flows to the English Colony will go to Spanish possessions, and the goods can then only come to our markets after paying heavy imposts, instead of as at present finding their way to the free Colony of Labuan. It probably a knowledge of the political events which are in the womb of the future, and of the apathy which the British Government has manifested with respect to Spanish filibustering in the Scoloo Archipelago, which has discouraged Rajah BROOKE, and induced him to offer his principality to the Netherlands Government, rather than see-it fall into the hands of the Spaniards and Italians. It would be well, seeing how rapidly these schemes are being carried out, that the Government should take some steps before it is police constable's boat go by, and they then too late, to avert a very serious blow to our trading interests in an important and rapidly rising colony. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which Superior and Pacific Fuse Company's Eagle On and after this date, a discount of 20 per have one general meaning.
